

BURCH JURY AGAIN FAILS TO REACH VERDICT

LOS ANGELES, CAL., November 30.—(By the Associated Press)—It was a happy Thanksgiving Day for Arthur C. Burch, who was said to agree with his chief counsel, Paul Schenck that the disagreement last night of the jury in Burch's third trial for the murder of J. Belmont Kennedy was "the equivalent of an acquittal."

Burch laughed aloud when Judge John W. Shenk polled the jurors and each declared there was absolutely no chance for an agreement.

This came after more than 30 hours had passed since the case had been given to the jury and six ballots had been taken. The first was the same as the last—seven to five for acquittal—the jurors said after they had been discharged.

Judge Shenk thanked the jurors and told them he was certain they had voted according to their consciences.

"I would not want a verdict unless it had been conscientiously reached," said the court. The defendant's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Burch, of Evanston, Ill., were in the court room when the jury reported its inability to agree and was discharged.

The trial of Mrs. Madeline Owen, jointly indicted with Burch, for the murder of Kennedy, her former sweetheart, will be held next Monday. Indications are, however, it will be postponed, as her attorneys are busy with a case on trial in the federal court.

There has been no announcement from the district attorney's office concerning a fourth trial for Burch.

Clemenceau Thankful For Reception

CHICAGO, November 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Georges Clemenceau, France's wartime premier, prepared to take the road again today on his self-imposed mission of winning American support for France.

The next stop on his itinerary was Springfield, Ill., where he was scheduled to lay a wreath on Lincoln's tomb and deliver a brief eulogy this afternoon.

Making his last public appearance at the opera last night, he disclosed for the first time in America "moon tube"—his top hat. He had declared in New York he wouldn't wear it because his soft felt hat looked better. But, as he was departing, he decided to do it up brown.

Clemenceau was given a long ovation when he entered the Potter Palmer box at the end of the prologue to the "Snow Maiden."

He stayed until the end of the third act—nearly half past ten. Before he went to bed he dictated a Thanksgiving message to America, declaring the reception he had received and the interest with which his message had been heard, gave him much to be thankful for.

How Thanksgiving Day Began

THE historian dipped quill in ink and prepared to write. He was about to chronicle an incident in the story of a party recently landed from the "shippe Ayde" of the Frohisher Expedition, which brought the first English settlers to the then very New World.

"On Monday morning, May 27, 1578," scratched the quill, "on board the Ayde (off the New Foundland coasts) we received all the communion by the minister of Gravesend and prepared as good Christians toward God and resolute men for all fortunes and toward night we departed toward Tilbury Hope.

"Here we highly praised God and altogether upon our knees gave Him due humble and hearty thanks and Master Wulfall, a learned man appointed by her majesty's council to be our minister, made unto us a godly sermon, exhorting all especially to be thankful to God for his strange and marvellous deliverance in those dangerous places."

This, it appears, was North America's initial Thanksgiving service.

The first record of any similar observance on the soil of what now is the United States was that of the Pilgrim colonists at Sagadahoc, Me., in August, 1607.

But these were mere services.

A whole Thanksgiving Day, beginning with worship of course, but including also turkey and appropriate trimmings was proclaimed by Governor Bradford of Massachusetts on Dec. 23, 1621.

This was the Thanksgiving Day generally spoken of as our first. In reality it lasted three days. The governor's proclamation designated only one, but the colonists enjoyed the feasting so much that they stretched it out.

The Pilgrims, as Puritans, he it remembered, didn't think much of Christmas. Yet they wanted some day they could celebrate. They took kindly to Thanksgiving as a substitute.

True, some years they missed it, either because they were pretty busy or didn't feel very thankful, but other years they celebrated twice.

Once, just as the Massachusetts colonists were sitting down to a gorgeous spread, it was learned that the godless aborigine who had purveyed the venison and turkey for the occasion, acquired them, by sleight of bow and arrow, on the Lord's Day.

For this the redskin was compelled to return the money paid to him and received 39 lashes instead.

"Having inflicted a just and righteous punishment on the sinful Indian," says the chronicle, "the company, with the exception of one member whose conscience was not satisfied, fell upon the meal and devoured it."

By 1634 the festival had become a regular annual event in Massachusetts. Before long it was observed similarly throughout all New England.

During the Revolution, the Continental Congress recommended eight Thanksgiving Days and General Washington two.

In September, 1789, Representative Boudinot asked Congress to suggest to the president a day of thanks for the constitution.

"In my opinion," said Representative Burke, objecting, "this would be a silly imitiation of European ways."

"And in mine," said Representative Tucker, objecting too, "before"

RADICAL LEADERS GRANTED PARDONS

CHICAGO, November 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Wm. Bross Lloyd, wealthy Chicago radical and fifteen associates, had their liberation from prison after serving eight days of sentences for violation of the Illinois Anti-Syndicalism act to be thankful for today.

Governor Len Small commuted their terms late yesterday.

Shortly before 11 o'clock last night, Lloyd and the six others sent to the Joliet penitentiary for one to five years, walked out. Three hours later the nine men confined in the Cook county jail, all sentenced to serve one year, were released.

Mrs. Lloyd was waiting at the prison gates for her husband in the family limousine, accompanied by Robert Howe, Lloyd's secretary.

"Well, Bill," Howe queried after the interchange of greetings, "how did you like it?"

"Great," replied Lloyd. "It's a good rest, would be for a tired business man."

"Oh honey," interjected Mrs. Lloyd, "did they cut your hair?"

"Not one wisp," answered Lloyd as he removed his hat.

In announcing executive clemency for the convicted men, Governor Small said he was in accord with the dissenting opinion written by Justice Orrin N. Carter, who questioned the constitutionality of the law.

Congress Suspends Sessions

WASHINGTON, November 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Congress, with the house having passed the shipping bill and the senate still in the quagmire of a Democratic filibuster on the Dyer Anti-Lynching bill, had suspended activities with other branches of the federal government here today over Thanksgiving Day. At the White House also, President Harding had planned to do only a little work during the day and to spend the remainder quietly after having dinner with Mrs. Harding in her sick room, whose condition now permits her to spend part of each day in an easy chair.

The house took an adjournment over the holiday immediately after passing the administration shipping bill yesterday. The senate fight over the bill is expected to get under way next week. By a last minute vote the house yesterday struck out of the bill the amendment specifying that the subsidy would not apply to any voyage on which a ship carried liquor, its elimination being moved on the ground that it would tend to weaken rather than strengthen existing law.

There was no end of the Democratic filibuster in sight when the senate adjourned yesterday over Thanksgiving and the situation was declared by some to point to its continuation until the extra session adjourns sine die Saturday night.

N. & W. Engine Blows Up; Two Killed

Two injuries, Percy Johnson and Elmer Johnson, of Johnson were instantly killed and John Deane, a machanic, of Kennerly, was injured but not seriously at 2:45 this morning when an N. and W. engine 921 blew up in the Kennerly yards.

Low water pressure caused the explosion and it is believed that Deane, who was in the cab at the time the engine fell asleep.

Officers of the N. and W. are making an investigation of the explosion. Deane was working in an engine house in the yard which blew up and the force of the explosion blew him out of the cab of his engine.

Woman Drops Dead Making Beds

While making beds in her home this morning at 9:30 Mrs. Anna Moun-ton-Gordley, aged 49, wife of Samuel Gordley of 2217 Gallia street fell over-dead. Her death was attributed to heart trouble. She had not been in good health for two years.

In addition to her husband Mrs. Gordley leaves the following sisters and brothers: Ambrose of Chicago, Walter of this city, Mary, who is in Minnesota, Henry of Dixon, Minn., Peter of Hillsboro, Ohio, and William of South America.

giving thanks for the constitution, it would be well to try it for a while and see how it works.

Perhaps with turkey and cranberry sauce in mind, Congress made the suggestion nevertheless and President Washington named Nov. 26. Various other national executives followed suit. Thomas Jefferson certainly was one of them, for it is of record that a certain Connecticut clergyman, in his Thanksgiving sermon, besought on behalf of the Monticello sage, as "our president," a goodly portion of the divine grace.

"For well, O Lord, thou knowest," the worthy pastor reminded his flock, "how much he needs it."

However a presidential proclamation was by no means the invariable rule in those days. More often than not the governors of the various states were left to issue proclamations of their own, and this they generally did, though not always for the same day.

Finally, just after Gettysburg, Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, of Philadelphia sent a copy of Washington's first proclamation to President Lincoln, urging him to issue one of his own. Lincoln did, naming Aug. 6.

Since then a presidential proclamation has been issued every year, and with one exception the last Thursday in November always has been the day.

Administration Shipping Bill Passes The House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press).—The administration shipping bill, around which was waged the most bitter partisan fight of the present congress, was passed today by the House with 211 yeas, to 181 nays.

Sixty-nine Republicans broke away from their party organization and opposed the bill, which four Democrats supported.

There never was much doubt about the result, but the margin by which it went through was much lower than estimates publicly given by most of the leaders. It was, however, just about what they figured on privately.

In the face of threats to delay, if not prevent its passage by the Senate, the measure, which goes Monday to the Senate committee, which plans to accept it as passed by the House and take the fight to the floor next week.

The usual motion to recommit, for the purpose of striking out the provision relating to tax exemptions and direct compensation, was made by Representative Hardy, Texas, ranking Democrat of the Merchant Marine committee, which framed it, and defeated, 215 to 172.

Joseph Horebow left Wednesday evening by auto for Zanesville, where he will spend Thanksgiving Day with his brother, Reuben Horebow, manager of a furniture store in the City.

Twenty members and six visitors were present at the meeting of the I. C. E. class of the First Christian church Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Lang, 2530 Gallia street. After the regular business was disposed of the remainder of the evening was spent in music and games. Later a delicious refreshment course was served by the hostess.

Visitors present included: Mrs. C. C. Coverston, Mrs. Carrie Wolan, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lang, Miss Mae Foster and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Craydon.

Miss Hentrich Evans of 1005 Fourth street, a leader in the Bond street school, left Wednesday afternoon for Charleston, W. Va., where she will spend the week-end with relatives.

Mr. G. E. Carlisle will go to West Baden, Indiana, Friday to attend the National Face Brick Convention. Mr. Edward Carlisle will join him there Sunday.

The Juniors and Seniors of 1106 Redemer school will give a banquet in the auditorium of the school tomorrow evening in honor of the Weston football team which plays the Holy Redeemer team here Friday afternoon.

Miss Ada Tammer's 13th at her home on Seventh street.

Steelworkers Burned

Lorenz Hane and Raymond Davis, steelworkers, are in Schirrmann hospital suffering from burns sustained early Wednesday when a furnace door near which they were standing while at work at the Whitaker-Glassner company blew open. The force of the explosion hurled the men several feet and enveloped them in a cloud of steam and a spray of boiling water.

Hane, whose home is in Carter county, Ky., was the most severely injured, he being burned about the face and neck. His eyes were also affected but he will not lose the sight. Davis was burned about the face and eyes but not so serious as his companion. He lives at 1748 1/2 West street.

NEW ENTRANCE TO SELBY PLANT

Carpenters have started work on a new entrance to the Selby office on Seventh street. It will include a large sized foyer and waiting room while a marquee will extend out over the sidewalk. The new entrance will be larger than the present one to the main office.

Prisoners Enjoy Real Dinner

Sheriff and Matron Rickey were real hosts to the forty-five prisoners incarcerated in the county jail (Thanksgiving noon, when they treated their charges to a big spread.

The place de resistance on the bill of fare was rabbit and the menu consisted of brown gravy, mashed potatoes, cranberry and apple sauce, slaw, pumpkin pie, fruit and coffee.

Real Sensation At The High School; "Purple Cow" Makes Its Appearance

Portsmouth High School's new publication, "The Purple Cow" made its first appearance Wednesday. The new paper was to have been published twice each month, but the P. H. S. student body seems to be deeply interested in the little paper and it may be published every week. The paper printed at the Chapman-Kennedy print shop, is check full of High School news. It will be offered for sale in the football crowd this afternoon.

PRESENTS LAD WITH COON SKIN CAP

Richard Young, son of Dr. P. W. Young of 724 Sixth street was one of the happiest lads in the city last night when "Grizzly" Smith who delivered a lecture in the high school auditorium last night under the auspices of the Boy Scouts presented Richard with a genuine coon-skin cap.

It was made from the skin of a raccoon killed by "Grizzly" Smith in Oregon and the lad has a perfect right to be proud of his gift. The cap has the raccoon tail fastened to the top. Richard drove the automobile that carried the lecturer to the high school and back from the Washington hotel.

New Business Block Going Up

A one story brick business block is being built by the Portsmouth Store and Range Company on their lot on John street just south of Ninth. Contractors Jones and Lallow are erecting the building, which is going up rapidly. The front will be of face brick. When completed the building will be occupied by C. R. Jones of Eleventh street who will have an automobile service station with special electric service for machines.

Police Make Eight Arrests

Officers caught in the police net over last night consisted principally of misguided celebrators of the holidays, six of the eight violators nabbed were labeled "just drunks" on the blotter at police headquarters. The list included Adam Mason, Leonard Jackson, colored; A. J. Douglas, Robert Hammond, P. C. Hughesback and Clarence Callahan. On complaint of William Johnson this morning, Officer Brannan arrested Leon Irvi, 21, and locked him up at the city jail to meet a charge of pointing firearms. During a dispute at a house at 1506 Waller street, this morning, Johnson claimed that Irvin drew a pistol and threatened him. Clarence Meadows was the name given by a man arrested by Officer Schroeder for speeding.

WILL FARE WELL AT INSTITUTIONS

Persons who on this Thanksgiving Day find themselves in the county and city institutions will not be overlooked when it comes to Thanksgiving dinners.

At the Children's Home west of Wheelersburg chicken and dumplings will be the main item on the menu. There will also be plenty of mashed potatoes, cranberries, celery, bread, butter, pie and cake.

At the Home for Aged Women where thirteen women will surround the table there will be roast chicken on the big meat platter. There will also be mashed potatoes, cranberries and all the other necessary trimmings that go to make up the usual Thanksgiving dinner. The women of the home are more than thankful for the many donations received during the last few days. The school children have sent in many donations while citizens have also sent in the chickens and other necessities.

At the County Infirmary Superintendent William Weldner will see that roast goose graces the festive board. In addition to the roast goose there will be mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes, oyster soup, gravy, cranberries, celery and mince pie. There are forty-four at the infirmary at this time.

BOY SCOUTS HEAR BIG GAME HUNTER

The lecture of "Grizzly" Smith, delivered last evening at the P. H. S. Auditorium under the auspices of the local Boy Scouts of America, proved to be one of the most entertaining and interesting talks ever heard by a local audience. A big crowd greeted the speaker and he was met with a hearty reception.

"The Apostle of the Great Outdoors," a small wrinkled man with a grizzly beard, told of his wonderful adventures in a remarkably graphic manner. His listeners were carried with him to the realms of distant places with which he is so familiar.

He told of his hunting and trapping expeditions and of his many varied experiences while out in the open.

Yesterday noon at the Kiwanis Club luncheon "Grizzly" thrilled the members of that organization who were gathered to hear him.

McHenry Laid To Rest

In the little silent city on the hillside overlooking his home near Blue Creek, Adams county, all that remained of Austin McHenry, star outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, was tenderly laid to rest there Wednesday afternoon. Just as the flower covered casket was being lowered into the grave a stream of golden sunshine shone upon it just before the sun buried its head behind a lofty nearby hill. It seemed to illuminate the casket that contained the mortal remains of a wonderful ball player, affectionate husband, loving son and a law abiding citizen.

The last rites of McHenry were held at Moore's Chapel and were in charge of Rev. Grant of Otway. It was the largest funeral ever conducted in that section. At the church a quartette, composed of Mrs. Clara Jones, Messrs. J. E. Suenmaker and Clyde Jones and Miss Anna Smith sang "Abide With Me," and "Face To Face," favorite hymns of the deceased. The services at the grave were in charge of the Masonic lodge in Rome with which the deceased had affiliated.

The pallbearers were Fred Hunter, Jesse Haines, a Cardinal pitcher, Bert Shotton, assistant manager of the Cardinals, H. W. Mason, secretary and treasurer of the St. Louis club, and Scout Win. Doyle and Conrad Roth of this city.

Prominent Masons from Rome, West Union, Manchester, Peebles, Winchester and Otway were present and paid their last tribute to McHenry.

The floral designs came from all parts of the United States and mutually testified the esteem in which he was held abroad as well as in his own community.

Old people as well as young wept when McHenry's body was consigned to his everlasting place.

Mr. Kline To Buy Goods

That the retail business is on the boom, is shown by the fact that A. Kline, of Kline's store, left Thursday for the New York markets to replenish his stock. He returned from New York but six weeks ago and at that time believed he had purchased sufficiently of fall and winter merchandise to carry his store through the season. Mr. Kline will make a rather hurried trip, for he is due back on next Wednesday.

Sells Stores
David Tipton, grocer, has sold both of his grocery stores preparatory to engaging in a new business the nature of which he said he would announce soon.

Mr. Tipton has been in the grocery business in this city for over ten years and he is well known here. He sold his establishment at Hutchins and Robinson to William Arthur of Walnut Street, while the grocery at Eighth and Brown Streets was purchased by Clarence V. Warman of Fifth Street. The new owners will continue to operate for the retail trade.

Eichelberger Is Sued

An aftermath of the Beaver Bank case appeared on the horizon yesterday when Superintendent of Banks H. E. Scott, through Attorney General John G. Price, filed suit against William A. Eichelberger to collect $15,000 which, he says, is due the defunct Bank of Beaver on notes given by Eichelberger and his wife, April 3, 1920. The notes, he says, are five for three thousand dollars each.

In security for the notes, a mortgage was given on certain lands owned by Eichelberger.

John W. Parks of the Attorney General's office is assisting Judge Price.

The case is styled an "amended cross petition and answer in the case of the Buckeye State Building and Loan Co. vs. William A. Eichelberger, et al."

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Physician's Discovery Safely Reduces It to Normal and Drizz Spells Disappear

If your blood pressure is too high you cannot pass a life insurance examination. Perhaps you don't know whether you have this trouble or not, but if you have occasional dizzy spells, shortness of breath, pains in the head, boy dashes, are nervous, moody or don't sleep well, your blood pressure is probably higher than it ought to be. Norma, the prescription of a Buffalo physician, reduces high blood pressure and when this result is accomplished all the ailments caused by this abnormal condition will quickly disappear. Water & Streich and reliable druggists everywhere have a steady demand for NORMA. It is purely vegetable and contains nothing harmful. — Advertisement.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?
Do you know why ointments do not give quick and lasting relief?
Why cutting and operations fail?
Do you know the cause of piles is internal?
That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?
Do you know that there is a harmless internal tablet remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by Wurster Bros. and druggists generally, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the internal cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. There is no reason why it should not do the same for you. — Advertisement.

Norma Talmadge in her Great Picture, "Smilin' Through," will be the Special Attraction at the Columbia for Today and the two days following. Don't fail to see this grand picture.

Norma Talmadge's latest First National starring vehicle, "Smilin' Through," is coming to the Columbia theatre today for an engagement of three days.

Advance reports state that this is the most ambitious production yet made by Norma Talmadge. It is an adaptation of Allen Langdon Martin's stage hit of the same name, in which Jane Cowell appeared on the speaking stage.

Appearing opposite Miss Talmadge are two leading men, Wyndham Standing and Harrison Ford, and a splendid supporting cast, including Alice B. Francis, Glenn Hunter, Grace Givens, Mirlan Battista and Eugene Lockhart.

who killed his bride he interrupts the romance of the young people and the absorbing plot gathers dramatic momentum.

Norma, ever a great emotional actress, is said to have taken advantage of the great dramatic opportunity presented her.

The Chamber of Commerce received a letter Tuesday from L. J. Taber, director of the department of agriculture of Ohio, asking that a number of automobiles be provided for the transportation of the large number of visitors expected in this city on December 5th when the Theodore Roosevelt Game Preserve on the West Side will be dedicated with appropriate exercises in which Governor Harry Davis is expected to play a leading part.

President Adam Erick of the Chamber of Commerce replied to Mr. Taber's communication urging that further information be sent as to just how many out of town persons are expected here on that date so that all the machines necessary may be secured. The Portsmouth Automobile Club will be asked to secure the use of automobiles for the visitors who are expected to number close to 100. The visitors will include members of Governor Davis' cabinet, officials of the agricultural department and other state officials and Ohio sportsmen who are interested in the game refuge and reforestation plans.

The dedication of the Game Preserve is scheduled for two o'clock, Tuesday afternoon December 5th.

WE SUPPOSE SO

We suppose the reason a rabbit costs all the way from 25 to 40 cents is the high cost of rabbit food.—Trenton Register.

Women of Thirties Most Beautiful, Say Critics

Women of Loveliness May Be Preserved Far Beyond Middle Life by Care of Health—Tanlac Has Helped Thousands Regain Lost Vitality.

Many famous men have said that no woman is really beautiful after she is thirty. Her beauty has been flushed and refined by the fires of experience into a fulsomefulness with which even the bloom of youth cannot compare.

There is a danger of this. A woman may be even more beautiful and attractive in her later years, or may even enter into a rapid decline of her beauty. The clear, glowing skin, the clear, charming smile, the graceful, curving figure that are so essential to the beauty and attractiveness of a woman are provided by the body's own vitality. If this vitality is lost, the body's own vitality is lost, the body's own vitality is lost.

ANGEL SIGNS
Digestive troubles are a chief danger and Tanlac, the celebrated stomach purifier and system builder, is the remedy. If you are tired out all the time, or your skin is sallow and pale, or your cheeks are thin and colorless and you suffer from indigestion and backaches, do not sleep well and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. If you are nervous and out of sorts, have dizzy spells and black spots before your eyes, if you suffer from acid stomach, indigestion and are afraid to eat certain things, it is a sure sign that your digestive organs are not performing their full duty and the system is becoming clogged with impurities.

Tanlac was designed to overcome such a condition and thousands of women throughout the United States and Canada have taken this wonderful medicine with such remarkable results that they have expressed gratitude in the public press.

Mrs. Robert O. Reynolds, 127 N. Center, St. Kansas City, Mo., says: "For ten long years I suffered from a very bad form of rheumatism, stomach trouble and nervousness. Three bottles of Tanlac built me up twenty-five pounds and I haven't a trace of my old troubles left. I believe Tanlac will help anybody."

THE THING ON THE HEARTH

THE first confirmatory evidence of the thing, Excellency, was the print of a woman's bare foot.

He was an immense creature, he sat in an upright chair that seemed to have been provided especially for him. The great bulk of him flowed out and filled the chair. It did not seem to be fat that enveloped him. It seemed rather to be some soft, tough fiber, like the pudgy mass making up the body of a deep-sea thing. One got the impression of strength.

The country was before the open window; the sweep of velvet lawn extending to the great wall that inclosed the place, then the bend of the river and beyond, the distant mountains, blue and mysterious, blending indistinguishably into the sky. A soft sun, clouded with the haze of autumn, shone over it.

"You know how the faint moisture in the bare foot will make an impression."

He passed as though there was some compelling force in the reflection. It was impossible to say, with accuracy, to what race the man belonged. He came from some queer blend of Eastern peoples. His body and the cast of his features were Mongolian. But one got always, before him, a feeling of the hot East, lying low down against the stagnant Suez. One felt that he had risen slowly into our world of hard air and sun out of the vast sweltering ooze of it.

The thing came out after the mysterious, incredible tragedy. I should not have written that final sentence. I want you to think, just now, about the great bulk of a man that sat in his big chair beyond me at the window.

It was like Rodman to turn up with an outlandish human creature crowding him and foot. How the thing came about seems like a lie; it reads like the wildest lie that anybody ever put forward to explain a big yellow Oriental following one about.

But it was no lie. You could think up a lie to equal the actual things that happened to Rodman. Take the way he died!

The thing began in India. Rodman had gone there to consult with the Marceese. Giovanni concerning some molecular theory that was involved in his formulas. Giovanni was digging up a buried temple on the northern border of the Punjab. One night, in the explorer's tent, near the excavations, this inscrutable creature walked in on Rodman. No one knew how he got into the tent or where he came from.

Giovanni told about it. The tent flap simply opened, and the big Oriental appeared. He had something under his arm rolled up in a prayer-carpet. He gave no attention to Giovanni, but he saluted like a coolie to the little American.

"Master," he said, "you were hard to find. I have looked over the world for you."

Giovanni thought Rodman did not understand it; he thought he himself understood it better. The monk was pleading Rodman to a high virtue, in the lapse of which something awful was sure to happen.

Giovanni wrote a letter to the State Department when he learned what had happened to Rodman. The State Department turned it over to the court at the trial. I think it was one of the things that influenced the judge in his decision. Still, at the time, there seemed no other reasonable decision to make.

The testimony must have appeared incredible; it must have appeared fantastic. No man reading the record could have come to any other conclusion about it. Yet it seemed impossible—at least, it seemed impossible for me—to consider this great vital bulk of a man as a monk of one of the oldest religious orders in the world.

Every common, academic conception of such a man he distinctly negated. He impressed me, instead, as possessing the ultimate qualities of clever diplomacy—the subtle ambassador of some new Oriental power, shrewd, suave, accomplished.

When one read the yellow-backed court-record, the sense of old, obscure, mysterious agencies moving in sinister menace, invisibly, around Rodman could not be escaped from. You believed it. Against your reason, against all modern experience of life, you believed it.

There was one man in the world that everybody wished could have been present at the time. That was Monsieur Jonquelle. Jonquelle was chief of the Criminal Investigation Department of the Service de la Surete in Paris. He had been in charge of the French secret service on the frontier of the Shan states, and at the time he was in Asia.

Another installment of the unusual mystery story will appear in our next issue.

Will Discuss Taxation

Several hundred persons from all parts of the county are expected to meet in the High School auditorium Thursday afternoon, December 7th at one o'clock for the purpose of discussing the all important matter of taxation. The meeting has been called by Joseph H. Brant of Lucasville, chairman of a committee on taxation in Scioto county.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the best way legislation could be enacted to reduce what is now termed an excessive taxation on holders of real estate. The farmers and large holders of real estate are vitally interested in this question and many are expected to be at this meeting to give their opinion on the matter.

Representative-elect Adam Frick has been secured by Mr. Brant to make the main address of the meeting. Mr. Frick has given considerable thought to the taxation problem and as he has had experience in the State legislature his remarks will no doubt be very interesting.

Just before the recent election, a meeting of farmers was held at the County Farm Bureau office and Court House for the discussion of taxation matters. The meeting scheduled for next week being the outgrowth of that small gathering.

LOCAL MEN WIN PRUDENTIAL TURKEYS

Some weeks ago W. V. Swartzbaugh, Chillicothe, Superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance Co., offered two turkeys as prizes for the largest production in a special period of activity in Southern Ohio. Forty men were competing for the turkeys and strange to say, both the winners happened to be in Portsmouth. One of the turkeys was won by G. F. Ashenbarn, local manager, and the other fowl was copped by C. L. Anderson, local agent. These men also won turkeys last year.

Doctor's Prescription For All Skin Diseases

"In my practice," says Dr. Johnson, "I used many kinds of so-called skin foods but never until I found Hokara did I see such beautiful and satisfactory results. I use it on all my patients, men as well as women. It cleanses the skin and makes it soft and fresh looking; at the same time it produces a firmness and gives power to the tissues. Instantly allaying all skin troubles. All those to whom I have recommended it are delighted with its use."

Skin specialists and physicians recognize Hokara as the scientific treatment for eczema, pimples, ulcers, acne, itch and other skin troubles. Hokara contains no grease, is antiseptic and is so clean that it is a pleasure to use.

Druggists everywhere sell a good big jar of Hokara for 60 cents and guarantee it. You are sure to get it at Fisher & Streich Pharmacy.

Better Than Calomel

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

"Headaches," "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c.—Advertisement.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—To settle an argument, please tell me which is correct, for a girl to get off the car first or for the gentleman to get off, then help his lady friend off?

X. Y. Z.

I think the gentleman should get off first and assist the girl, as most girls insist on getting off backwards instead of stepping the way the car is headed. Of course if she is one of the young athletes and is wearing a pair of knickers she will probably hop off before the man gets a chance to assist her.

Dear Miss Wise—As you have helped so many others we are writing to you for some information. We are two girls of 18 and 19 and would like for you to tell us some addresses of good vaudeville or movies as we would like to join some of them.

TWO CHUMS

You would not have one chance in a hundred of getting in the movies, but you might get a small part in some vaudeville show if you can do anything worth while. Why not call on the manager of the stock company now playing at the Sun theatre and get his advice on the subject.

Dear Dolly—A short time ago (two months) you published a notice in your column asking all the nice girls of Portsmouth to write to me, a lonely college student. Not a single letter did I receive. Are there no nice girls in Portsmouth? I am certainly ashamed of Portsmouth. Come on, girls. Who will be the first? All letters will be answered. Dolly, won't you write to me yourself?

RALPH E. MOI

1015 E. Collins St., Oxford, Ohio.

I would write you if I had the time, but since I have about seven letters to answer every day, several are going to get left out, and I fear you are one of them. However, if you take The Times you will hear from me.

Dear Dolly—Would you please tell me how I can bleach white wool that has turned yellow by the sun.

CUTIE

If there is anything that will bleach white wool goods, I haven't discovered it as yet. I should think a cream white would look much better than a milky white at that. Wool usually turns yellow when it is washed or ironed. There are various remedies for bleaching on the market, but since wool is so ticklish to handle, I don't believe it would be advisable to monkey with it.

Dear Dolly—I have just been reading about this poor woman who has no neighbors. Maybe she claims her neighbors in other parts of the city, eh? Why don't some of these nodding kind burst in on her and lay their grievances at her feet. She may have forgotten the old adage—"While in Rome do as the Romans do."

do." Hence, the reason of her unpopularity. I know a family who does not work, yet they live. Maybe they have hidden treasures. And you can see the woman of this house up in the morning and before six o'clock she will be at a neighbor's house and their conversation lasts from fifteen minutes to two hours, and I've been told it starts out like this: "Have you heard? Have you seen?" Now this woman is well disgusted. To meet her out you would not imagine her to be this type of womanhood. They rattle on till some poor soul is stripped of every bit of virtue, honesty and integrity. As far as they two have it. It has been said one

SOCIAL NEWS

THANKSGIVING

Let us be grateful. Thanksgiving is here.

Thankful that summer has gone, let us be thankful when spring comes again.

Thankful the whole winter long, let us be cheerful and happy through life.

Like sunbeams that brighten our way, even though sorrow adds to the strife.

Let us be thankful today, let us be thankful that there is a day.

Set apart to be thankful that we may be thankful that God has allowed us to stay.

Another Thanksgiving to see.

—Christopher J. Byrne.

Today marks the close of a glorious month, and it is with reluctance that we bid farewell to a wonderful November, which has been full of warm, lovely days and an abundance of sunshine. For all of this and the plentiful harvest, the wealth in our land, the peace we enjoy, for the friendship that hope and affection have brought, for these gifts on Thanksgiving Day we should humbly bow in solemn reverence to Him Who sends us blessings manifold.

Family dinners, reunions, the big football game and the various attractions at the local theatres this afternoon and evening will provide diversion for the people of Portsmouth who did not go out of town to visit relatives and friends. Many of the younger set are planning small informal affairs for the girls and boys who are home from schools and colleges and the closing days of the week promises to be gay and happy ones.

An early December event eagerly looked forward to is the Charity Ball, which will be given on Tuesday, December 12th, under the auspices of the local lodge of Elks. The proceeds of the dance will be used to bring Christmas cheer to the poor kiddies of the city who otherwise might have to go hungry. The dance will be given in the Elk Ball room and also in Baesman's Dancing Academy. One ticket will admit the dancers to either hall and they can alternate their dances first at the one place and then at the other. Excellent music will be furnished for the occasion and it is hoped to make this one of the most delightful community affairs of its kind given since the big ball last year.

The committee in charge of arrangements include Edmund Krieger, Floyd C. Fuller, William Hyland, Samuel Horchow and C. E. Grashel.

Francis P. MacDonald, who recently assumed charge of the Elks' club rooms, has extended a cordial invitation to the club women of the city to hold their afternoon meetings in the assembly room of the club house. This is an ideal place to hold group meetings of any kind, and the women of the city will no doubt avail themselves of this gracious offer. Oftentimes it is not convenient for a hostess to entertain at home, and many homes are not large enough to accommodate club meetings. Afternoon card parties, receptions, teas, etc., may also be held there, the only charge being a nominal fee for janitor service. Mr. MacDonald plans to make the Elk club a delightful community center for meetings that can be held in the afternoon from two to five o'clock, so as not to interfere with the members of the Elk club.

The Portsmouth Reading Club will meet next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. N. W. Evans and Miss Gladys Evans on Gallia street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peckles of Second street are entertaining at dinner today Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Peckles and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Vanderroot.

Mrs. Charles Brunner of Ninth street entertained with a cut glass, aluminum and linen shower last evening, honoring Miss Nettie Corley, who will in the near future wed Mr. Carl Bihlman. The wedding will be a social event of next month. Those present last evening included Mrs. Elizabeth Berry, Misses Ada Westwood, Katherine Grum, Charlotte Gilmore, Emma Rose Bihlman; Messrs. Roy Brunner, Lloyd Grum, Paul Weber, George Gilmore; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brunner, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Grum, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berr, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. William Bihlman. At a late hour a delicious refreshment course was served.

Mrs. William Hastings of Timonids avenue is in receipt of an interesting letter from her daughter, Miss Ruth Hastings, who is touring Europe with a party of friends. The party has been royally entertained at the home of Miss Talmira Carbayal, in Aviles, Spain, and will spend Thanksgiving there. Miss Carbayal had been attending school in this country and spent the past summer at Camp Junaluska, in North Carolina, where she endeavored herself to all the girls in camp, especially the three Portsmouth girls, Miss Hastings, Miss Nancy Grimes and Miss Helen Yelley, who also spent the summer there.

Miss Carbayal accompanied the tourists on their trip abroad and furnished them with a great deal of valuable information about Spain and other foreign countries. Miss Hastings writes that they spent the month of October in Italy and Rome, where they were granted an audience with the Pope. They also visited many other places of interest in Italy, including Avignon, the old home of the Holy Father. From there they proceeded to Spain, where they have been sight-seeing during the month of November. Among the places visited in Spain were Cordova, Seville, Granada and San Sebastian. The first of the week they will leave for France, where they will spend the month of December, expecting to sail for home early in the new year.

The Woman's Literary Club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Schapiro, 2219 Second street. A full attendance is urged.

Mrs. John Peckles has hosted to the members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Second Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon at her home on Second street. The Devotional and Prayer Calendar was in charge of Mrs. Hugh I. Evans.

"Our Half Century of Missions in Japan" was described by Mrs. W. E. Gault, while Mrs. Pauline McKeown gave a very interesting description of "General Allenby's Entrance Into Jerusalem."

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Peckles and her assistant hostesses served a light refreshment course. The assistant hostesses were Mrs. J. M. Hennessy, Mrs. W. E. Gault, Mrs. Walter Doerr, Mrs. Pauline McKeown, Mrs. Rose Baker and Mrs. Joseph Stevens.

The Portsmouth Reading Club will meet next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. N. W. Evans and Miss Gladys Evans on Gallia street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peckles of Second street are entertaining at dinner today Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Peckles and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Vanderroot.

Miss Bessie Spence was hostess Wednesday evening when she entertained a number of friends with an informal party at her home, 1639 Eleventh street. Dancing, music and games were the main diversions of the evening and furnished a most enjoyable time for everyone present. The rooms were decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving season and the colors were also apparent in the favors and appointments of the delicious refreshment course, which was served near the close of the evening. The guest list included the Misses Ruth Thomas, Audrey Sharp, Geneva Massa, Ruth Davis, Marie Spence, Marjorie Thompson, Carrie Hester and Bessie Spence.

Messrs. Homer Cox, Edward Yelley, Bernard Moore, Clyde Boren, Thomas Bates, Henry Fairtrace, Lloyd McLaughlin, Bernard Puttee and Estel Corvin.

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian church has changed the time for their meetings from 2 p. m. to 10:30 a. m. Sundays. Next Sunday morning the services will be in charge of Miss Fern Galford. The topic will be "Worthwhile Life."

Louis Bannan, who is attending Ohio State University at Columbus, will come home Friday to spend the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bannan, of Bannan Place.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Rardin and daughter, Marcella, who arrived here by motor last night from Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Glen E. Rardin and sons Ted and Robert, will be guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hadden on Waller street today for Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Randolph Williams of Second street and Mrs. Frank E. Dinduff and daughters Elizabeth, Mary Catherine and Isabel, motored to Haverhill this morning to spend Thanksgiving Day with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Oakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. York are entertaining with a family dinner today their guests being Mrs. A. C. Thompson and daughter, Miss Ruth Thompson, Judge and Mrs. Oscar W. Newman and Miss Ruth York of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Selby are entertaining with a family dinner today at their home on Gallia street. Covers will be laid for Mr. and Mrs. Pearl E. Selby, Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Selby, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Selby and son, George D., Jr., Mr. Roger Selby and Mr. Ben H. Dillon. The occasion also celebrated the birthday anniversary of Mrs. George D. Selby.

The play, "The Rev. Dayton Up-to-Date," given by Liberty Class of Trinity church Tuesday night, was a big success. A large crowd attended and showed their appreciation of the efforts of the young people by their generous applause.

The cast of characters was as follows: Rev. John Dayton, Up-to-Date—Frank Geiger. Ezekiel Hardnut—Doucou of the Church—Henry Rinner. Obadiah Hartley—The Village Squire—A. F. Cyfers. Anna Matilda Squalls—President of the Ladies' Aid Society—Mrs. Harry Blazer. Leida Lugfoot—Mrs. C. L. Stiff. Nancy—Knowest—Mrs. Guy Ackley.

Miss Kathryn Elliott welcomed the members of the "Gogole" club Tuesday evening at her home, 1521 Robinson avenue. A program of enjoyable social diversions, which included games and music, occupied the guests until a late hour, when refreshments were served to the Misses Page, Geer, Ruth Millard, Jane Ketchell, Dorothy Gockz, Bernice Doll and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wood of 1098 Dever avenue have as Thanksgiving guests their sons Ralph Wood of Ironton and James Wood, who travels for the Joseph G. Reed Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Pleasant Wilson of Cincinnati, who are here visiting their sister, Mrs. J. H. Schusky of 816 Grimes avenue, returned Tuesday night from Ironton, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Pratt.

While the Girls' Community Club over the Lyric Theatre will be open tonight, beginning Monday, December 4, no big public program will be given until December 16, when a unique and original entertainment has been devised. Preceding the entertainment will be an informal reception and refreshments will be served during the evening. It is safe to say that the program is of such a unique order that it will be worth while attending. All program arrangements have not been quite completed as yet, but the date has been definitely set for Saturday, December 16, and invitations will be sent out some time during the next week.

A wedding of interest to their many friends was that of Miss Robin R. Reed and Mr. Fred O. Brown, which was quietly solemnized at half after seven o'clock Wednesday evening at the residence of the Bigelow M. E. church, with the pastor, Rev. Charles E. Chandler officiating. Mrs. J. W. Crickensberger, with whom the bride has been making her home, was the only attendant.

The charming young bride looked unusually attractive in a pretty afternoon gown of blue cotton crepe, with harmonizing accessories, and wore a corsage of bride's roses.

The young couple will make their home for the present with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Brown, on Valley street, New Boston.

Mrs. Brown is the beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Herd of Wellston, and has been one of the efficient teachers in the Oak street school of New Boston for the past several years. She will continue her work until the end of the school term.

Mr. Brown is connected with the McDonnell Buick Company on Gallia street and is a popular young man, well worthy of his charming young bride.

Mrs. Henry Saunders and daughter Ruth arrived last evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Knost of Franklin avenue.

Miss Edna Kayser, charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kayser of 913 John street, and Mr. Basil Staten, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Staten of Eighth and Lincoln streets, surprised their friends by slipping up to Ironton Wednesday morning, where they were quietly married. They returned to this city later in the afternoon and will make their home for the present with the bride's parents.

Mrs. Staten has been employed as salesgirl at the Portsmouth Dry Goods Company, while the groom holds a responsible position with the Whitaker-Glessner Company.

The Young People's Missionary Society of the Bigelow M. E. church will meet next Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ralph Delamater of Seventh and Lincoln streets. The meeting will be in charge of Group Three, of which Mrs. Ralph Delamater is chairman. The other members of this group are Mrs. John Randolph Williams, Mrs. Donald Blair, Misses Emma Johnston, Miss Katherine Roush and Miss Mary Margaret Fuller.

A LA MODE

THE great romances of French literature in former days are sealed to a French girl until she dons the wedding ring.

The only novels she is allowed to read are those written expressly for young girls. They deal with the mildest love making.

Only the title of Madame enables the French girl to take up the novels of Victor Hugo, Balzac, George Sand and others.

Consequently, as one French "old maid" of 30 has complained, "mixins of 18 or 20, just because they are married, can read what they choose, while I am still treated as a school girl."

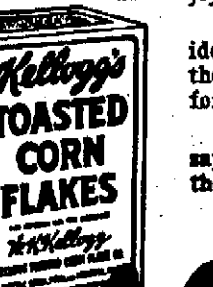

"Crispy and crunchy" all the time—crackly! An' never tough or mushy! An' what would happen if Kellogg's got all mixed up before tomorrow?

You certainly realize the difference in Corn Flakes when you eat Kellogg's

From the instant you open the generous sized package till they're tucked away in great and tiny "bread-baskets," Kellogg's Corn Flakes are a delight! You can't even look at those big sunny-brown flakes, all joyously flavored, crisp and crunchy, without getting hungry! Kellogg's are never leathery or tough or hard to eat—they're just wonderful!

Such a spread for big and little boys and girls—the sweetheart of fine white corn kernels deliciously flavored and deliciously toasted in Kellogg's own way! You can't imagine anything more joyous to eat at any hour.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes are childhood's ideal food! Kiddies can eat as much as they can carry! Every mouthful makes for health, for sleepy-time-stomachs! Don't just ask for "corn flakes"! You say KELLOGG'S—the original kind in the RED and GREEN package!

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"WHAT are you making now?" asked Nick, as Nancy and her brother stood watching the Green Wizard tinkering at something very mysterious.

"Nothing more or less than a magic alarm clock," answered that kind fairy as he gave a twist with his screw driver. "It's for little Chuckie Chipmunk. He says he never can get up in time for school. But mind you, he wants an alarm clock that no-one else can hear. He says Fleet Fox lives next door and he doesn't want him to waken until he's gone. There! It's all done and you may deliver it at once."

The Twins knew where Chuckie lived under a stone pile, so off they trotted in their Little Green Shoes.

Chuckie was at home and pleased to pieces when he heard what they had brought.

"Oh, boy!" he cried, jumping up and down. "Now I'll get to school on time and Mr. Scribble Scratch, the school-master, won't have to keep me in. Whir! What's this? It's a note tied on to the spider. I'll have to read it and see what it says. So he read the note out loud:

"Dear Chuckie," said the note. "Here is the clock you asked for. But I can't make one that Fleet Fox won't hear. The best way is to manage to be awake every morning before it starts to ring, then you can shut it off just before it begins. Yours wishfully,

"The Green Wizard."

"Oh, dear! That's a lot of trouble!" sighed Chuckie. "But I guess it's the only way. All right, you tell the Wizard that I'm over-so much obliged and I'll be awake early every morning to shut the alarm off."

So, that's what the Twins did. About a week later the Green Wizard found a package at his door and opened it. On top was a letter.

"Here's the clock!" said the note. "If I have to waken up to shut it off, I might as well not have it. I'm cured of oversleeping."

"Yours,"

"Chuckie."

BOILED PUDDING

By Bertha E. Shapleigh of Columbia University

If pudding is to be cooked in a cloth, have the cloth soaked thoroughly in hot water, wring dry, and cooled. Dredge cloth with flour that pudding shall not stick to it.

The water in the pot must be boiling when the pudding is put in, and continue boiling the entire time, otherwise the water would soak into the cloth, or the steam condense into water, and make the pudding heavy.

As the water boils away, always replenish with boiling water.

Never add cold water to kettle tie(as that will make the pudding heavy.

UNION SERVICES BREATHE THE TRUE SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING

Appropriate Services Held In Local Churches; Well Attended

With the social evils, vice and intemperance, Sabbath desecration and other forms of lawlessness. Our perils are not the same as those of the Pilgrim Fathers, but they are just as real and formidable. With our divine help and guidance, we shall never continue to prosper. Therefore, beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, in not keeping his commandments. And it shall be that if thou doest all forget the Lord thy God, and walk after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I testify against you this day that ye shall surely perish.

AT BIGELOW CHURCH

Rev. Wm. H. Gleiser in his sermon in Bigelow this morning said: For though the fig tree shall not flourish, Neither shall fruit be in the vine; The labor of the olive shall fail, And the fields shall yield no food, And there shall be no herd in the stalls, Yet will I rejoice in Jehovah, I will joy in the God of my salvation.

—Habakkuk 3:17, 18.

Habakkuk lived in troublous days. Violence, lawlessness, and injustice were running riot through the land. With such conditions surrounding him on every hand he cries out: "I cry unto Thee of violence and thou wilt not save?" In response there comes the answer that a mighty nation will come forth to bring punishment upon the people. One evil gives way to what seems to him a still greater. The prophet stands at the thought of this mighty Chaldean foe descending upon his people. And once again he cries out to Jehovah asking Him why all this is permitted to go on.

CALVARY BAPTIST

Rev. S. J. Sowards in his sermon this morning said: "Let us be thankful."

The eighth chapter of Deuteronomy contains a description of the Promised Land, which today we may well read as applying to our own favored country. Verses 10 and 11 of this chapter will serve as a text for our morning worship. "When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee. Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, in not keeping his commandments, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day."

Our national Thanksgiving day did not have its inception in the overflow of material blessings, but rather in an experience of anxiety and want. When in 1621 our Pilgrim Fathers proclaimed such a day, they were facing the cold and depressing winter weather, without a preceding harvest, and without food which might be in store for them before the fields should again bring forth their fruitage. But in the spirit of gratitude they were reminded of the streams that were flowing with fish, and the forests full of wild turkeys and other wild game, that would at least be sufficient to keep them from starving, and their children from suffering too greatly. After all, I am thinking that it was easier for a poor man to have a turkey dinner than this is today.

According to our good custom we again call upon you in our particular remembrance in a churchly manner our individual and our national blessings, recognizing that God is the giver of every good and perfect gift.

"Commend your way unto him, name them one by one."

Count your many blessings, see what GOD has done."

First of all, we are reminded of the abundant harvest. That not every American citizen is well fed and comfortable today, is not due to the fact that God has withheld his blessings, and that there is not sufficient food for us all. Somewhere we have failed in our adjustment to the divine order of things, for there is bread enough, and to spare. We are shipping our surplus to all parts of the globe. The figures in our agricultural reports are fairly staggering. It takes nine and ten figures to express the number of bushels of corn or wheat, oats or potatoes, that our fields have brought forth.

In the chapter of our text, Palestine is spoken of as "a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass." Think just for a moment of the latent wealth of our nation. Gold and silver, coal and iron, platinum, brass and tin, and other commodities which add to our comfort, wealth and happiness. There is no other country like it in all the world.

Then think of the wonderful growth of our nation, in its far-reaching influence upon the other nations of the world. From that small beginning in 1492, see what God hath wrought.

All of these blessings bring to the human race unmeasured opportunities; and it is little wonder that foreigners keep flocking to our shores, seeking the benefits of this blessed land of ours.

There are perils still, that may well command our attention. Of these, the influx of un-American foreigners is not the least one, and needs to be watched and regulated. We are not saying a word against the foreigner, as such; for we must remember that we are all of foreign extraction. The removal of those who have come to this country even during the lifetime of this present generation, would be an inconceivable calamity to our national and community life. Speaking of foreigners as a peril, we only refer to those who come and then refuse to become Americanized. Increased opportunities are always accompanied by increased responsibilities. There are nearly always grave dangers connected with increasing wealth and power.

We will have to continue to battle

new activities among the churches. It is not a far step backward, to compare Puritanism with the present ideal, the reign of Christ in all human life. The men of the Mayflower were anxious to escape from religious despotism and were not seeking worlds to conquer, but it was within the vision, even then, to see the day "of the world finding unity in the new life in Christ." And the same spirit which thrust the Puritan out of England will send him on to the ends of the earth, with the Christian guarantee for human welfare. International safety, economics, and industry must be solved by the whole world, and the patriotism which applies to this universal need is inspired by Christ.

In Him enough power will be discovered to save not only nations or only, but the world in its throes of tyranny and suffering. It is referred every day to the consecrated thinking and patient service of those who have grasped the liberty that is in Christ, and the issue waits upon human dignity. "All things are yours," only let the vision be wide and incisive and the speed unrelaxed.

OBITUARY

A. W. Thompson The funeral of Mr. A. W. Thompson who dropped dead Monday afternoon at South Portsmouth, Ky., was held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the Burick-Rawson funeral parlor on Gallia street. Rev. G. M. Howerton of the Central Presbyterian church and Rev. D. L. Bush of the South Portsmouth Methodist church had charge of the last rites. Interment was made in Greenlawn cemetery.

Mr. Knapp was a member of the Lutheran Church at Powellsville. Funeral services will be held from the Powellsville Lutheran Church Friday morning at eleven o'clock with Rev. N. Rasmussen in charge. Burial will be in the Powellsville Cemetery.

Dr. John W. Sowards Dr. John W. Sowards, prominent Greenup physician and business man, died at his home there yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, death being caused by Bright's disease and heart trouble from which the doctor had been suffering for some time. His death however, came suddenly, and as a shock to the family and community. He had been at the Leslie Motor Company garage, in which he was interested, and about 3:30 o'clock asked his son James, to take him home as he was not feeling well. The son took him home but as the doctor did not appear to be seriously ill, left for Portsmouth. At four o'clock the doctor died. The son learned of his death about an hour later when he called at the home of his uncle, S. L. Robb in this city.

Dr. Sowards had lived in Greenup for the most of his life. He was 55 years of age. Besides enjoying a wide professional practice, he was interested in the Barner Products Co., the Leslie Motor Co., the First National Bank of Greenup and the First National Bank of Portsmouth.

Dr. Sowards is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Sowards, his son, James, and one brother, James Sowards of Pikeville, Ky., at which place Dr. Sowards was born.

The deceased was a Mason and a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Never to be forgotten by her daughter and three grand sons, Mabel E. Lenegar, Russell, Leroy, Cecil Lenegar. adv 30-1t

L. W. Spargur SEAMAN, OHIO, Nov. 28.—A deep shadow of gloom passed over the faces of our townspeople as on Monday afternoon, on account of the almost sudden death of one of our respected citizens and business men, Mr. L. W. Spargur.

On Monday morning, Mr. Spargur was in his usual health and about 10:30, had gone to his coal yard to superintend the loading and weighing of coal which he had sold. While there he became dizzy and sat down by the bins, some minutes later falling over on the ground, shrieking with apoplexy. He was soon carried to his home—the Spargur Hotel. When lifted from the place where he had fallen, he told those about him that he was sick and to send for the doctor. Dr. Lytle was summoned, reaching the home soon after Mr. Spargur was brought in. He answered a few questions asked by the physician and then became unconscious and so remained until 2:30 p. m.

His death, which was a great shock to his many friends, as he has been connected with the business life of Seaman since his removing here from Rainboro, Highland County, thirty-two years ago, and was well and favorably known by a wide circle in both Adams and Highland Counties. He had lived to see the village increase in both business growth and population and had been one of our staunch citizens and business men.

When he became a citizen of the village, thirty-two years ago, he bought a half interest in the general store conducted by John Q. Roads. This partnership existed for some years, when Mr. Roads retired, Mr. Spargur continuing the business, together with an extensive timber business, the Spargur House, and later feed and flour exchange. Disposing of the store and timber business some years ago, he continued the Hotel and flour and feed business, when a few months ago the latter was discontinued, but he remained as host at the Spargur House until death called him. Mr. Spargur had done his part as a citizen and greatly helped with the development of Seaman, as in years gone by he furnished employment to a large number of men. He was upright and honorable in his dealings with the public, never having labor troubles with the men who were in his employ.

His life here has been one of service. He had been active in the work of the Methodist church, and served the Sabbath school, as its Superintendent for over twenty years; was Postmaster of the village for six years; served one term as Mayor, and was Justice of the Peace for Scott Township at the time of his death. All of these positions and many more of lesser importance, he has filled in a creditable manner.

Lawrence W. Spargur was the son of Alfred and Catherine Spargur, was born near Marshall, Highland Co., July 19th, 1854, died November 27th, 1922, aged 68 years, 8 months and 8 days. His parents after removed to a farm near Rainboro, Highland Co., where he resided until locating in Seaman. He has been married three times. First to Miss Ella Pulse of Rainboro, on October 10th, 1878, who died in October 1889. To this union were born three children, Inez, who died at the age of eight years, Miss Josie and Fred, who reside near Rainboro.

On May 18th, 1892 he was united in marriage to Miss Nettie Fugate of this place who departed this life July 12th, 1900. To this union was born one daughter, Thelma, who with her half-sister and brother mourn the loss of a kind, indulgent parent.

On August 29th, 1915, he was united in marriage with Miss Louise Shreffler, who survives him. His death is mourned by the wife, three children, one sister and two brothers.—Mrs. Burch Hixon and Mr. Frank Spargur of Rainboro, and Mr. Thomas Spargur of Cuba, Clinton County, and a host of other relatives and warm friends.

His funeral was conducted from the Methodist Church, by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Hunsaid, on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, after which his remains were laid to rest in the Mt. Leigh cemetery. The members of Seaman Lodge Knights of Pythias, of which he was a charter member, marched to the church in a body and inter conducted their ritualistic service at the grave.

Thus ended the life of a good citizen.

Death Wednesday morning claimed Jacob Knapp at his home in Scioto County near Superior, Lawrence County. He had suffered with complications for some time. Mr. Knapp took treatment at Martinsville, Ind., but returned from there in September and had been bedfast most of the time since. The deceased was 50 years and eight months old.

Mr. Knapp spent most of his life on farms in the vicinity of Powellsville. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knapp of Powellsville. The mother passed away about 29 years ago.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Mary Knapp, and six children, Elsie, Beatrice, Elmer, Earl, Ernest and Clara Edna. The father, Henry Knapp of Powellsville, and five brothers and four sisters also survive. The brothers are John and Adam of Pedro; Henry of Sciotoville; Fred of Illinois and Charles of Ninth Street, this city. The sisters are Mrs. Charles Bush, of Grandview Avenue, Mrs. William Kleineke, Portsmouth; Mrs. Mary Knagie, of Cincinnati and Miss Callie Knapp of Ninth Street, Portsmouth.

Mr. Knapp was a member of the Lutheran Church at Powellsville. Funeral services will be held from the Powellsville Lutheran Church Friday morning at eleven o'clock with Rev. N. Rasmussen in charge. Burial will be in the Powellsville Cemetery.

Dr. John W. Sowards Dr. John W. Sowards, prominent Greenup physician and business man, died at his home there yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, death being caused by Bright's disease and heart trouble from which the doctor had been suffering for some time. His death however, came suddenly, and as a shock to the family and community. He had been at the Leslie Motor Company garage, in which he was interested, and about 3:30 o'clock asked his son James, to take him home as he was not feeling well. The son took him home but as the doctor did not appear to be seriously ill, left for Portsmouth. At four o'clock the doctor died. The son learned of his death about an hour later when he called at the home of his uncle, S. L. Robb in this city.

Dr. Sowards had lived in Greenup for the most of his life. He was 55 years of age. Besides enjoying a wide professional practice, he was interested in the Barner Products Co., the Leslie Motor Co., the First National Bank of Greenup and the First National Bank of Portsmouth.

Dr. Sowards is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Sowards, his son, James, and one brother, James Sowards of Pikeville, Ky., at which place Dr. Sowards was born.

The deceased was a Mason and a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Never to be forgotten by her daughter and three grand sons, Mabel E. Lenegar, Russell, Leroy, Cecil Lenegar. adv 30-1t

L. W. Spargur SEAMAN, OHIO, Nov. 28.—A deep shadow of gloom passed over the faces of our townspeople as on Monday afternoon, on account of the almost sudden death of one of our respected citizens and business men, Mr. L. W. Spargur.

On Monday morning, Mr. Spargur was in his usual health and about 10:30, had gone to his coal yard to superintend the loading and weighing of coal which he had sold. While there he became dizzy and sat down by the bins, some minutes later falling over on the ground, shrieking with apoplexy. He was soon carried to his home—the Spargur Hotel. When lifted from the place where he had fallen, he told those about him that he was sick and to send for the doctor. Dr. Lytle was summoned, reaching the home soon after Mr. Spargur was brought in. He answered a few questions asked by the physician and then became unconscious and so remained until 2:30 p. m.

His death, which was a great shock to his many friends, as he has been connected with the business life of Seaman since his removing here from Rainboro, Highland County, thirty-two years ago, and was well and favorably known by a wide circle in both Adams and Highland Counties. He had lived to see the village increase in both business growth and population and had been one of our staunch citizens and business men.

When he became a citizen of the village, thirty-two years ago, he bought a half interest in the general store conducted by John Q. Roads. This partnership existed for some years, when Mr. Roads retired, Mr. Spargur continuing the business, together with an extensive timber business, the Spargur House, and later feed and flour exchange. Disposing of the store and timber business some years ago, he continued the Hotel and flour and feed business, when a few months ago the latter was discontinued, but he remained as host at the Spargur House until death called him. Mr. Spargur had done his part as a citizen and greatly helped with the development of Seaman, as in years gone by he furnished employment to a large number of men. He was upright and honorable in his dealings with the public, never having labor troubles with the men who were in his employ.

His life here has been one of service. He had been active in the work of the Methodist church, and served the Sabbath school, as its Superintendent for over twenty years; was Postmaster of the village for six years; served one term as Mayor, and was Justice of the Peace for Scott Township at the time of his death. All of these positions and many more of lesser importance, he has filled in a creditable manner.

Lawrence W. Spargur was the son of Alfred and Catherine Spargur, was born near Marshall, Highland Co., July 19th, 1854, died November 27th, 1922, aged 68 years, 8 months and 8 days. His parents after removed to a farm near Rainboro, Highland Co., where he resided until locating in Seaman. He has been married three times. First to Miss Ella Pulse of Rainboro, on October 10th, 1878, who died in October 1889. To this union were born three children, Inez, who died at the age of eight years, Miss Josie and Fred, who reside near Rainboro.

On May 18th, 1892 he was united in marriage to Miss Nettie Fugate of this place who departed this life July 12th, 1900. To this union was born one daughter, Thelma, who with her half-sister and brother mourn the loss of a kind, indulgent parent.

On August 29th, 1915, he was united in marriage with Miss Louise Shreffler, who survives him. BOY HIT BY MACHINE; DIES

A depressed fracture of the frontal region of the skull and broken limbs and forearms were fatal injuries suffered by Howard Abrams 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Abrams who live east of Wheelersburg about 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when he was struck and knocked down by a Ford coupe driven by Harry Miller, well known young man who travels for the Portsmouth Candy Company. The lad died at his home about thirty minutes after the accident.

The scene of the fatal accident was about a quarter of a mile east of the Warden Oil bridge which crosses Pine Creek east of Wheelersburg. The boy being struck down in front of his home a second or two after he alighted from a school bus and started to cross the road to his home. Miller was driving west on the paved road

FIFTY YEARS AGO

A young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who finally made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and moving to Buffalo, N. Y., put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state.

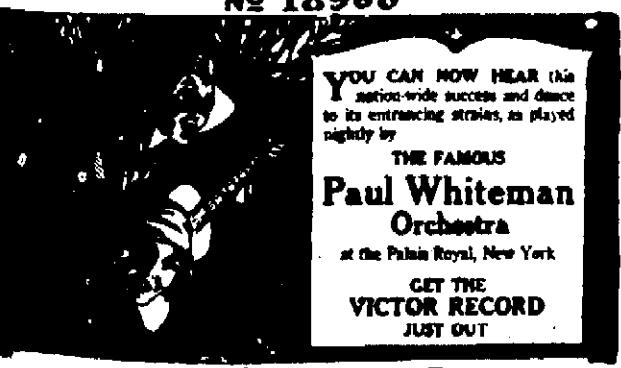

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womanhood. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged down by weakness of her sex—a woman is quickly restored to health by its use. Thousands of women testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription "has entirely eradicated their distressing ailments."

More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called Anuric (for kidneys and backache) has been successfully used by many thousands who write Dr. Pierce of the benefits received—that their backache, rheumatism, and other symptoms of uric acid deposits in joints or muscles have been completely conquered by its use.

Send the to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. of any of his remedies, or write for free medical advice.—Advertisement.

and did not see the lad in time to stop his car.
According to Miller who rooms at Eighth and Chillicothe streets, he was driving west on Gallia pike and noticed the school wagon stop but did not think anyone had time to get out of the bus before he passed the machine. The lad jumped off the rear step of the school bus and started to run across the street and had taken only a few steps when he was struck by the machine driven by Miller who says he stopped his car within ten feet of where he struck the lad. The boy was dragged and rolled for some distance his face and head being cut in multiple places.

The mother ran from the home to investigate the cause of such a commotion and when she saw that it was her son who was bleeding on the paved road she picked him up and carried him into the home.

Miller drove to Wheelersburg and from a store there called Dr. H. A. Schirman but as he was out an assistant was sent to the scene of the accident. Dr. K. D. Reichelderfer of Wheelersburg was called also and he arrived at the home about ten minutes before the lad passed away. The injury to the skull was said to be the one that caused death, the skull pressing on the brain. Six stitches were necessary to close a badly split lip. The broken hips and forearms and cuts and bruises about the face were caused by the boy being dragged and rolled by the machine.

The driver of the machine came to Portsmouth after remaining at the scene of the accident for sometime and reported at the police station. Chief Joseph Dietel and Traffic Officer Stanley Schroeder started to make an investigation. Coroner J. D. Hendrickson was also notified. Miller claims that the wheels of the machine did not pass over the boy's body.

Coming Home From School.
School had just been dismissed for the day and the rural school wagon driven by Kelly Blair was winding its way homeward-filled with a merry group of scholars. Howard, with his twin brother, Homer, and a younger brother were occupants of the truck.

The Abrams home is located in what is known as Springdale Addition not far from the Warden Oil Bridge, the family having moved into the house only last Tuesday. They had formerly lived in the little cottage owned by Oscar Boyer, about a quarter of a mile west of where they now live.

The day at school had been a busy one. Howard who was in the Fourth Grade was a bright lad according to his teacher, Miss Edna Andre. He was friendly, quiet and industrious. During the day he had drawn a number of Thanksgiving turkeys and he had a number of the sketches in his hand which he was taking home to show his mother and father.

Came From Ironton.
The Abrams family moved to this city from Ironton several years ago and took up residence at 4301 Pine street New Boston. For seven years the father, Robert L. Abrams, has been employed in the open hearth department of the Whitaker-Glessner steel plant. Several months ago the family moved from New Boston to Wheelersburg and last Tuesday they again changed their location.

Howard Abrams was born at Bordertown, Ky., eleven years ago and had lived until the 14th of next May he would have been twelve years old. In addition to his grief-stricken parents, he leaves six brothers to mourn his tragic death. Several brothers and sisters have preceded him in death.

There have been three pairs of twins in the family and with the death of Howard yesterday afternoon only one of each pair remains, the other two brothers having died some time ago.

The funeral services will probably be held Saturday morning and the body will be taken to Ironton for interment in the cemetery at that place.

St. Mary's School To Present Plays
In High School Auditorium Tonight

A delightful Thanksgiving entertainment will be presented this evening at the P. H. S. Auditorium by the students of St. Mary's High School. Two clever playlets, "The Step Sisters," and "Mechanical Jane" will feature on the well-balanced program and the High School Orchestra will furnish the music.

Reserved tickets may be had at the vestibule of the church this morning between the hours of nine and ten o'clock and from ten until twelve they will be procurable at Brandau's Book Store. After 12 o'clock, noon, the reserved tickets may be obtained at the Sisters' Home on Fifth Street.

POLICE NEWS

Theodore Stevenson, 21, of Vanceburg, was exonerated of a charge of larceny in connection with the theft of two suits of clothes and jewelry belonging to Noah Collins, at a hearing in Municipal Court Wednesday.

The property was stolen from the complainant's room at the Jenkins boarding house, 2341 Eighth street, this city, on September 3, and the accused established a complete alibi, four other witnesses—Robert Stevenson, Thomas H. Teets, John Tole and Eliza Evans, all of Vanceburg—supporting the defendant's story that he bought the clothes from a stranger at Russell, Ky., where they were all employed at the time in the C. & O. shops.

For lack of convincing evidence, Carl Gilgore, charged with assault and battery upon D. A. Roman a machinist employed at the N. & W. shops was dismissed by Judge McCall following a hearing in Municipal Court Wednesday.

The alleged assault occurred at the Winter Garden last Saturday night when Roman claimed he was struck and knocked down by a stranger while talking to a young woman named Nell Davis. He was unable to identify Gilgore as his assailant. Gilgore strenuously denied the charge and his story was supported by Frank Suter and Howard Morrison, who claimed they were with the defendant at the Garden on the night of the trouble and they insisted Gilgore did not commit the assault.

John Davis, Ida Davis, Anna Bradford, Ernest Lyles, Frank Holt and Lizzie Dorman, arrested early Tuesday morning for disorderly conduct during the progress of a party at the Davis home on Union street, changed their pleas from not guilty to guilty when they appeared in Municipal court Wednesday and Judge McCall passed them a fine of $11.20.

Family In Need Of Help

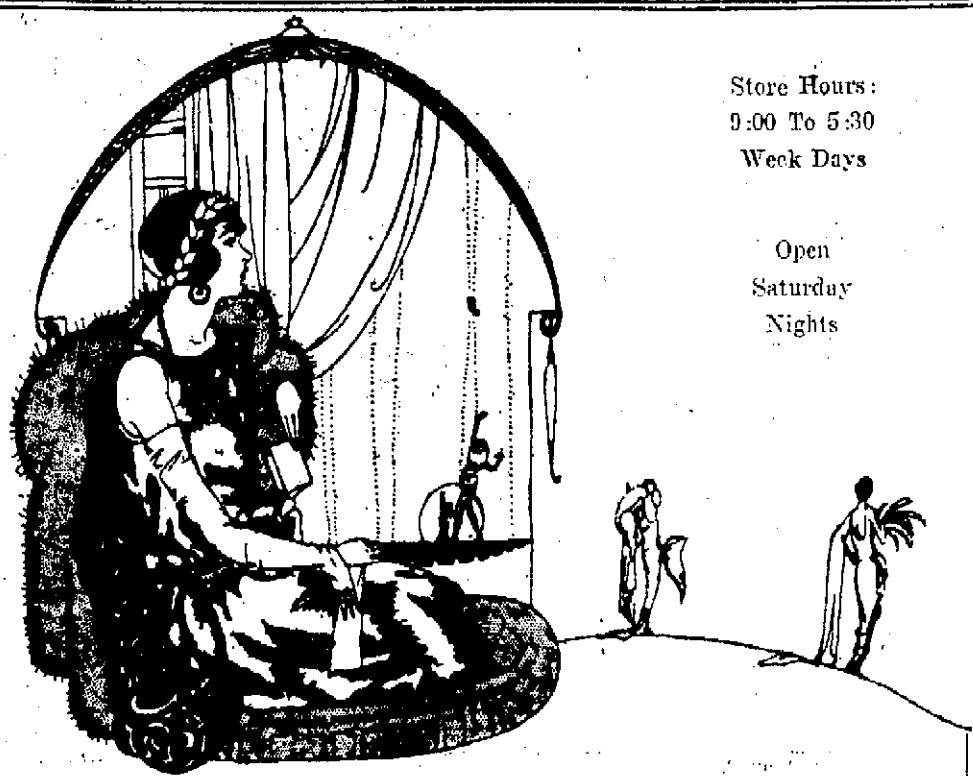

Members of the John Oakes family who were made homeless when their house on Robinson Avenue, was destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning, are being cared for at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pettie, 1306 Robinson Avenue. The Oakes family lost all of their furniture and other possessions and anyone who has clothing or furniture to donate to them would certainly be doing a fine thing by either taking it to the Pettie home or calling Mrs. Pettie on phone, 2144-1.

Three Injured In Collision

Mrs. C. W. Zuhars, of Dogwood Ridge, Wheelersburg, suffered serious scalp wounds and two other persons were slightly injured late Wednesday afternoon when a Ford sedan occupied by Mrs. Zuhars and her son Rudolph and daughter Vera, and the Bragdon Drygoods Co.'s truck driven by Louis White collided at Grandview Avenue and Vinton streets. Miss Zuhars suffered a bruise over her eye and a strained back while White suffered a badly sprained and bruised right ankle.

Rudolph Zuhars was driving the sedan south on Grandview and the Bragdon truck came west on Vinton. White turned sharply to the south to go down Grandview Avenue the right front wheel catching the left front part of Zuhars' machine. The impact sent both machines into the curb and that caused them to turn over.

Mrs. Zuhars' worst injury was a bad scalp cut over the left eye. She suffered other bruises and cut about the head and face but there were none of a serious nature. Dr. J. W. Fitch attended Mrs. Zuhars and daughter and Mr. White who lives at 2233 Vinton Avenue. Both machines were badly damaged.

A basket of dishes was in the sedan but not one of them was broken.

ROBERT Z. LEONARD'S PRESENTATION OF
MAE MURRAY
in FASCINATION

concerns what happened to a girl who didn't fully realize that

Written by Edmund Goulding
A TIFFANY PRODUCTION

MAE MURRAY'S NEW PICTURE SPANISH

Gorgeous Gowns and Brilliant Dancing Features of "Fascination"—Story of Girl
Fascinated by Toreador

In "Fascination," Mae Murray's latest production, presented by Robert Z. Leonard at the Eastland theatre Monday, the famous Metro star turns to Spain for her background.

In "Fascination" she appears as the daughter of a Spanish father and an American mother. The combination of the Latin temperament and the Anglo-Saxon gives Miss Murray a wonderful opportunity to do remarkable acting as Dolores De Lisa. She portrays this part of a young girl who, revolting against the chaperone-age of an aunt, decides to give herself a holiday. Disguising herself in a black veil and holiday garb she attempts a bold flight against the wishes of her aunt. At the ball fight she meets Carrita, a handsome young toreador, who fascinates her immediately. It is this fascination that supplies the main motive for the play, under its spell Dolores becomes involved in a series of breath-taking incidents.

The scenes are elaborate and lavish. All maintain the romantic flavor of Spain, and are complete in technical detail.

An unusually strong supporting cast has been assembled for the picture. Among them may be mentioned Helen Ware, Croighton Hale, Vincent Coleman, Courtney Foote, Charles Lane, Robert Frazer and Emily Fitzroy.

OBITUARY
Jacob Lanerman Funeral
Funeral services for Jacob Lanerman who died at his home 725
South street Tuesday night will be held from the home Saturday at 1:30 o'clock with burial in Picketon complex. The last rites will be conducted by Rev. G. Monroe Howerton of the Central Presbyterian church.

SOCIETY
Robert Quinn of Ninth street, has returned from a motor trip to Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Eckelberger of 1816 Fourth street, will have as guests for the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckelberger of Springfield, Ohio.

Mrs. Charles Eckelberger of 1828 Eleventh street, will have as guests for Thanksgiving, her sister, Mrs. Aggie
McCor and son, Vernie, of Pelee.

Mrs. Margaret E. Osborne of 2015
Timmons avenue, who has been visiting relatives in Chillicothe, will return home tomorrow.

Friends of Miss Mary Carlisle, who recently went to Roswell, New Mexico, to spend the winter will be glad to know that she is improving in health and is well satisfied with that part of the country. Her address is the Glickerson Hotel, Roswell, New Mexico. Mr. Carlisle will go to Roswell to spend Christmas with Mrs.
Carlisle and Miss Mary.

Mrs. John A. Oakes of 1726 Eighth street, went to Pelee this morning to spend the weekend with her daughters, Mrs. B. R. Wright and Mrs. W. D. Shoemaker.

Everybody is invited to attend the delightful little playlet "Fun in the Photographer's Gallery," which will be presented in the basement of the United Brethren church next Monday evening. The play will be given under the auspices of the Otterbein Society of the church and promises to be an unusually interesting and enjoyable affair.

Mrs. J. L. McElhards of Ninth and Waller streets, returned Tuesday noon from a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. C. J. White of Lawrence county, near Ironton.

Charles Storck, a student at Ohio
State University, is here to spend Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Charles L. Storck of 1005
Kinney's Lane.

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Ferguson have moved from 1515 Timmons avenue to the Inman property, 1920 Bald avenue, which they recently purchased.

Miss Helen Knott and Miss Margaret Haney arrived home last night from Ohio University, Athens, to spend the holidays with home folks.

Mr. Ben Revare, who has been located in Brooklyn, N. Y., for the past few months, is here to spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs.
James A. Kirby of 1318 Fourth street, and other relatives.

A wedding which will come as a pleasant surprise to their many friends is that of Miss Irma Hahn and Mr. Elmer E. Shoemaker, which was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Manse at half past seven last evening, the Rev. William Glozier reading the impressive Presbyterian double ring ceremony.

The only attendants were Miss Lucy Lynn and Mr. Oscar L. Pyles, intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride was attired in an attractive tailored suit of duvetyne, with accessories to match. The bridal corset was of pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

Miss Lynn wore a beautiful dress of crepe meteor with a corsage bou-quet of sweet peas.

Mrs. Shoemaker is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hahn, 1041 Twenty-second street, and has held a responsible position as bookkeeper with the Commercial Building and Loan Company.

Mr. Shoemaker is the youngest son of Mrs. Elizabeth Shoemaker of Beaver, Ohio, and is employed by the Kentucky Central Life Insurance Co.
of this city.

The happy couple, upon their return from a short honeymoon trip, will be at home at 1817 Offene street where the groom has prepared a beautiful home for his bride.

The following announcement has been mailed to the many friends of the couple:
Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hahn announce the marriage of their daughter
Irma
to Mr. Elmer E. Shoemaker

ily, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Marting and family, of Ironton, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Winter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Winter and family, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Winter.

Miss Margaret Becker of Gallia street is spending the day in Columbus, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Becker. While there she will hear Geraldine Farrar.

P. H. S. ALL SET FOR AQUINAS HI; BIG GAME ON SIXTEENTH STREET THIS AFTERNOON

Grid Classic

Starts At 2

"Stop Murphy," will be the yell of the Portsmouth high gridiron fans when they assemble on the Sixteenth street field this afternoon to witness the battle between Aquinas high of Columbus and the R. d. and Blue Lads. Murphy is the big 180-pound fullback on the Aquinas team and the visitors are counting on his line plunges to help them score their touchdowns.

Reports reaching the city last night when the advance guard of Columbus rosters arrived was that Aquinas was going to beat P. H. S. by three touchdowns at the least. Saying that and doing it is two different things, said Captain Tommy Brock, Acting Captain "Feggy" Ellsesser and the entire P. H. S. team this morning for they well know the ability of Murphy and that lad is sure to be covered every time he tries to advance the ball.

The big game will begin at two o'clock and fans who have been coming at the last minute at 2:30 will be disappointed if they don't get in their places before two o'clock today.

Coch Eccles reports the locals in the best of condition. The visitors will find the Red and Blue color bearers ready for them when the whistle sounds and it is a safe bet that the visiting warriors better keep their eyes peeled every second of the game for P. H. S. has a bag of (Nick) packs that will be used this afternoon. P. H. S. has been more careful in the few games to use only necessary plays to advance the ball or hold their opponents, knowing full well that Aquinas had scouts at the game. The locals therefore have some plays tucked under their belt that are expected to set the Columbus team back a few yards.

The annual Turkey Day battle has never before been favored with such weather for last season's game was played on a rain-soaked field with Aquinas as the opposing eleven. The biggest crowd in the history of P. H. S. should be on hand this afternoon with their season tickets are four bit pieces.

Lynch vs. Daly

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. Nov. 30.—(By the A. P.)—Joe Lynch, bantam weight boxing champion of the world will defend his title here today against Frankie Daly of New York City in a contest scheduled for ten rounds. The boxers are under agreement to weight no more than 115 pounds.

Offnere Street Lads Defeat Union

A drop kick from the toe of quarterback Ury spelled defeat for the Union street eleven yesterday afternoon when they met the Offnere street school gridders in what was one of the game's to decide the public school football championship. The victory for Offnere over Union leaves three teams, McKinley, Offnere and Union tied for first place honors. McKinley beat Offnere, Union beat Offnere and Offnere trimmed Union, they'd have an easy time packing away for Union has a team that is many pounds heavier than Offnere, and one that has had some coaching. They came onto the field thinking they would have an easy time packing home a victory, but the smaller team showed them that they had real players on their team and in addition to holding Union safe, put across three points on a drop kick from the 15-yard line early in the second half after Offnere had played Union off its feet. Offnere got through and blocked a punt on Union's ten-yard line. A few seconds later Offnere got the ball and after failing to gain on line bucks tried a drop kick which sailed right square between the goal posts.

Union later on in the last half attempted two drop kicks in an effort to tie the score but both failed. Union got away with one long pass to Buckley who was headed for a touchdown when halfback Art Jones of Offnere tackled him from behind. Buckley was thought to be one of the fastest players on the field but Jones proved that he could step some too. The tackle saved Offnere from having a touchdown marked against them. Offnere held several times with Union inside their 35-yard territory. The punting of tackle Sheets for Offnere was also out of the ordinary for such a game. His boots were for 40 and 50 yards every time. Rose and Mader also made good gains when they hit the line for Offnere. Gulkar, Buckley and Morris were the main players in the backfields for Union who attempted a number of passes in the last few minutes of play in a desperate effort to gain ground against Offnere.

Tunney Wins

NEW YORK.—Gene Tunney, former American light heavyweight champion, knocked out Charles Weinert of Newark, N. J. in the fourth round of a fifteen round bout here last night.

Centre's Last Game

DANVILLE, Ky., Nov. 30.—(By the A. P.)—Centre College and the University of South Carolina eleven playing here this afternoon furnished the headline act for Kentucky's Thanksgiving gridiron bill. The game marked the farewell appearance of Captain Roberts, Snowday and Greger for Centre.

To Hold Chase

President L. P. Cranston of the Scoto Valley Fox Hunters Club has called a meeting for the week of December 11 at the Lakeside Fair Grounds, when the running which was postponed several weeks ago because of the dry condition of the woods and fields, will be held. New judges will be appointed and it is estimated that it will take three days for the old dogs and three days for the young ones. All of the fox hunters of the county are asked to affiliate with the club and to compete in its needs.

Holy Redeemer Plays Wellston Eleven Here Friday Afternoon

The Holy Redeemer Hi grid squad is all set for its big game here tomorrow afternoon with the Wellston Hi eleven. Several weeks ago the locals met defeat at the hands of the speedy Wellston outfit, but the Portsmouth boys at that time were an inexperienced lot. The improvement resulting from able coaching and constant practice since the defeat is truly remarkable and the Irish lads, in the pink of condition and aching for revenge, will give the Wellstonians the surprise of their lives tomorrow when the whistle for the big pigskin melee toots.

To Play On Snow-Covered Field

LINCOLN, Neb. Nov. 30.—(By the A. P.)—Indications early today were that Nebraska and Notre Dame would play their annual football game on a snow-covered field. Such a possibility was regarded as against the Notre Dame chance for victory as the South Bend team is out weighed 27 pounds to the man in the line and topped in the matter of brawn in the backfield.

Invited To Dedication

That the efforts of Hon. George E. Matthews toward securing a game preserve for this county are appreciated is shown by the following letter sent to him by Governor Harry L. Davis:
 My Dear Matthews: Ohio's first game preserve and forest reserve—a 20,000 tract in Scoto county near Portsmouth, will be officially dedicated Tuesday, December 5 at 2 p. m. Central Standard time. In honor of that great American citizen and sportsman whose energetic stand for the conservation of our natural resources awoke the nation to this tremendous problem, it will be named "The Theodore Roosevelt Preserve." As one who through his individual efforts and leadership in the movement is contributing toward the solution in Ohio of this problem, your presence at these exercises is urgently to be desired and I would appreciate your participation in the ceremonies. I trust we may be favored with your help in this very important event in Ohio's history. Cordially yours,
 HARRY L. DAVIS, Governor.

Pickings From Puck

(Front Register)
 We see by the public print that there is to be a football game in Portsmouth for the championship of Scoto county. That game will be as exciting as Sunday morning in an old ladies home and, boy, what a tide to fight for. Portsmouth trying to wrest football honors from New Boston. They surely have returned to their class. Next the Smoke House outfit will tackle Bloom Switch and then in the order named: Clifford, George, Lucasville, South Webster, Harrisonville, Funk's Gut and Munn's Run.

BIG TRADE IS BREWING

NEW YORK, November 30.—Owners of the Vernon Club of the Pacific Coast League told officials of the New York American League Club today they would accept no less than $75,000 worth of players in exchange for the southpaw pitcher, Jake May, for whom the local owners have been clamoring for some time. The coast owners say they want no money for the little star, but players only. It is understood the Yankee management will meet the terms.

"This house has Electric Service"

When you've said that, you've gone a long way toward getting your lease signed. Because the modern woman wants a house she can turn into a home. And one of the first essentials of a cheerful home is the bright, inviting light of EDISON MAZDA LAMPS. The housewife knows, too, that in the house with electric service her work will be lessened and made easier by electric flatirons, electric washers, vacuum cleaners and the many other electrical appliances at her command.

Fill the empty sockets with Edison Mazda Lamps.

SAILING ROUGH SEAS
HARDING's pet project, the ship subsidy bill, is encountering baffling winds and hidden reefs in waters less expected, the lower house of congress.
It was launched as the first work of the special session. It had scarce left the ways when the waves began to break and froth. The first hidden obstruction it ran upon was the charge that it was designed especially for the benefit of big private interests and one of the greatest beneficiaries was Standard Oil, which would actually be paid a bonus by this government for transporting its own products to itself at various foreign ports. Then the whole organized agricultural interests rose up and tried to run it upon the beach.
All these contrary storms were mocked by the bold mariners of the administration; but they got a hard jolt and all their timbers shivered when on Monday, the bonus to Standard Oil was knocked out completely and several amendments ordered that left the craft in a rather sad condition.
So sad that predictions were freely made the old hulk, as it is already called, would not so much as navigate the lower branch. This was too sanguine a prediction, but there is the senate to sail, after the tossings in the house, and there is scant prospect there of safe journey.
For the eyes of the politicians are on the west, where the spectre of a new party is rising and the west is dead set against subsidy.

THANKSGIVING
MAN'S chief differentiation from the animal lies in his capacity for intuition. From his intuitions he finds hope. On his hope he builds faith—faith in himself, faith in an ordered universe, faith in a continuity of existence independent of physical death.
It is for his faith in that which is unseen, which has not yet come to pass but which can be constructed from the plans and specifications of his inner vision, that man should be chiefly thankful. For as he exists in these capacities, he differentiates himself from the brutes, who must take the world as it is because within themselves they have no dream on which they can build a possible way to make it better.
To live and see only today and yesterday—this is the animal's lot in life; to live and see today and tomorrow—this is man's high destiny. If a man has not a nickel, is out of work and does not know where his next meal is coming from, he still has cause to be thankful for the star within which lights his misery. And if he has much—security and comfort and a well-stocked table—how much should his soul sing a psalm of thanksgiving!

THOSE WHO LISTEN
O MAR KHAYYAM had an experience which is shared by the majority of people who live thoughtfully in these days. He said:
"Myself when young did eagerly frequent
Doctor and Saint, and heard great Argument
About it and about; but evermore
Came out by the same door as I went."
When discussion and argument are rife in the midst of religious turmoil, political and economic unrest, and international bickering, definite conclusions seem to be expected by those who read and listen. Argument ought to lead somewhere, it is true. Sound argument does reach right conclusions; but much of the argument of political speeches and theological discussions is like that of which Khayyam speaks, and with him the seeker after truth must say that he "evermore came out by the same door as I went."
The danger lies in not recognizing the two doors as the same, and in taking subsequent action which is based on false conclusions. The man who keeps a cabin head in the midst of hot discussions and loud talk, who forms clear judgments based on facts and his own ideals, who maintains the far look rather than the near, is the kind of citizen America needs today.

SANTA ON THE JOB
SANTA CLAUS has been caught napping!
The old gentleman went along figuring up for this Christmas just about as he always has done. And then last week some of his lieutenants discovered that there weren't near enough toys to go around.
So Santa has sent a hurry-up appeal to all the toy factories in America, and those 115 factories are busier than ever combing the dollies' hair, boring the holes in the mechanical building toys, painting the wooden blocks and doing a hundred and one things that are necessary.
A hundred and one? Yes, a thousand and one. Did you know that there are 42 operations necessary in making the piston cylinder on a toy steam engine? Santa knows that. And he knows all about how complicated an industry toy-making is.
But the old boy is making up for lost time now. He says in the first message of the season from the North Pole where his principal workshop is, that there will be toys for every good little boy and good little girl in America.

BELITTLING THE GREAT
BELITTLING criticism seems to be the lot of the great dead. It was more than 400 years ago that Christopher Columbus ventured forth on the quest perils and returned from beyond the Old World's horizon to report the discovery of uncharted lands inhabited by strange peoples and teeming with vast resources. Now delvers into the past claim that his discovery was an accident; that he found more than he was looking for; that his theory was a subsequent product of his mind and not the motivating conviction that spurred him on. Why raise quibbles at this late day? No matter whether Columbus fully visioned his enterprise before he put it through or not, he none the less served the world by his venture—and opened up a new world to civilization. He possessed the courage that did not balk at traversing unknown seas peopled by imaginations of that day with monsters and horrors. He had the seamanship that enabled him to set a new record for navigation. His achievement was great enough in itself to be above belittlement at this late day.

BLANKS HAVE ARRIVED; PRESENT YOUR STAMPS
"Have those blanks come?"
"That's a question that has been coming into the post-office five times to the hour."
Exultantly the answer goes back: "They have."
The blanks got in this Wednesday morning—sort of Thanksgiving offering.
Holders of stamps of the 1918 issue are asked by Postmaster Harding to present them promptly. He would like to see every stamp in by December 15th, at farthest, as it is then the big Christmas rush begins, and business is already fifty per cent larger than it ever was, while owing to death and sickness, the office is quite seriously short of experienced clerks.
DOUBLES
The double life is appealing strangely to fashion at the present moment. It is best exemplified in reversible wraps, and in frocks which may be made to do double duty. The wraps are generally of broadcloth with fur on the reverse side. The frocks consist primarily of a one-piece slip, suitable for afternoon wear, which may be converted into an informal evening gown by the addition of a befrilled train.

New York-Day-By-Day
BY G. O. MCINTYRE
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Millicent, Queen of the Backloggers. Sunday like a throw-back to the days when the Bowery theatres rang with cat-calls and cheers for the dillies and heroloes. When little Beth with her belted soul crope back to the old homestead through the storm to die. Millicent is one of the best dressed women in New York. She rides in a heavy limousine, manured by two flashy flunkies, who sit out in the front seat in the rain. I saw her with my own eyes. It was in the office of a man of many affairs. She was just leaving as I entered. The outside office stopped work to gaze as she swept down the aisle to the elevator. She wore a dark brown velvet dress with folds of expensive fur at the sides of the skirt and around the neck. And a tricorn hat with a millinery air that was covered with silver and jet.
The red-headed, freckled, pea-shooter at the outer gate described her perfectly as "Some ba-bee!" The man of affairs told me that she had come into possession of the finest stock of liquor in Manhattan before prohibition. She moved in certain circles on the fringe of society.
The stock market went bad and she went in for boot-legging, catering only to those she knew and who were willing to pay top prices. She has more than trebled the amount that was left to her by her husband and evidently has become quite shameless about her activities.
However, there are very few women boot-leggers in New York and most of them are creatures of the underworld who are working for men. It also seems to me that there is less surreptitious drinking in the cafes. What drinking there is, is confined to the home. And New York bears less and less about those wild all-night drinking festivals. Indeed, it is beginning to look as if we were really going to have prohibition.

My tailor tells me that a year ago all of his customers asked for large right hips in their trousers. This was to accommodate the pint nask. Of late, he says, there is no interest in big hipped trousers.
The editor-in-chief of a group of magazines appeared at a first night this week with something new in evening clothes. The lapels and collar were of black velvet and so was the vest, with rolled lapels and double rows of pearl white buttons. But the most daring effect was the trousers that ballooned at the waist and ran down to an almost skin tight effect at the ankles—with straps that ran under his shoes.
The nearest to a successor to Caruso is Chailupin, the Russian bass, who is rapidly becoming a popular idol. He tops the salary list at the Metropolitan—and big salaries tend to popularize in New York. He is brimming with youthful enthusiasm and gay spirits, and threatens to become the playboy of the opera that Caruso was. He chants over the foot-

Giving Thanks
For the hay and the corn and wheat that is reaped.
For the labor well done, and the barn that are heaped.
For the sun and the dew and the sweet honeycomb.
For the race and the song, and the harvest brought home—
Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!
For the trade and the skill and the wealth in our land.
For the cunning and strength and the working man's hand.
For the good our artists and poets have taught.
For the friendship that hope and affection have brought—Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!
For the homes that with purest affection are blest.
For the season of plenty and well deserved rest.
For our country extending sea to sea,
The land that is known as the "Land of the Free!"
Thanksgiving! Thanksgiving!
